Internet Archive is a non-profit library of millions of free books, movies, software, music, images, web pages and more

archive.org
archive.org/web
archive-it.org

2 million news programs available for closed caption search
[archive.org/details/tv]

28 million ebooks and texts
4.6 million digitized by Internet Archive
[archive.org/details/texts]

220,000 Live Music concerts from over 8,000 bands
[archive.org/details/etree]

4 million movie and video items
[archive.org/details/movies]

475 billion web pages
750 million pages captured per day
550,000 users per day
[archive.org/web]

Over 8,500 Arcade and MS-DOS vintage games that play in browser [archive.org/details/internetarcade]
[archive.org/details/softwarelibrary_msdos_games]

OPEN LIBRARY
30 million book edition records
[openlibrary.org]

14 million audio items
200,000 78rpm sides digitized
[archive.org/details/audio]

ARCHIVE-IT
49 billion captures archived in over 750+ partner collections
[archive-it.org]

580,000 software titles, many emulatable through a web browser
[archive.org/details/software]

3,000 broadcast hours from the events of 9/11
[archive.org/911]

3,500 books scanned per day in 18 centers worldwide

70+ unique petabytes of data
65+ million public media items
1.5 million unique users per day
17,000 uploads from users per day

3.5 million images
[archive.org/details/image]

Internet Archive, 300 Funston Avenue, San Francisco, CA 94118 • 415 561 6767 • info@archive.org